The Andrews Sisters

August 18th Andrews Sisters Tribute Show

The Andrews Sisters tribute show consists of three sassy divas – Anita David, Kelsey Giarola and Cherryn Lomas. They are backed by the accomplished and lively Andrews Sisters Tribute Band. Together the khaki-clad trio have a new stylish show and are bringing back the gorgeous 3-part harmonies and toe-tapping tunes of the Andrews Sisters! Dance to Boogie-Woogie Bugle Boy, reminisce with Rum and Coca-Cola and Don't Sit Under the Apple Tree with anyone but the Andrews Sisters Tribute Show! The Andrews Sisters brought laughter and happiness to many during the dark period of World War II. They were very active in their patriotic duty delivering war time entertainment, volunteering their time and singing and dancing and signing autographs for troops. They participated in an 8-week USO Tour and performed for thousands of service personnel. An excerpt from Doug McGuffog's Review 18 April 2017

"The 'Sisters' came on stage dressed in the US Army-style uniforms like those worn by original Andrews Sisters for their wartime performances and set the atmosphere with one of their classic tunes; 'Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy' that has a lively, swinging beat to get the heart pumping and the foot tapping.

Then followed a string of some of the most popular hits of the original group including such favorites as 'Rum & Coca Cola', 'Sing, Sing, Sing', 'Don't Sit Under the Apple Tree', 'Bei Mir Bist Du Schön' (the first big hit that launched Andrews Sisters into stardom), and 'Beat Me, Daddy, Eight to the Bar'.

But it wasn't all the brassy swing and beat with some tunes such as 'Apple Blossom Time' sung in gentle three-part harmony and Kelsey Giardo in a wonderfully nostalgic solo of the Vera Lynne wartime favourite 'I'll be Seeing You'.

During the second bracket, they had the audience really engaged; clapping to time in 'Mr Sandman' and other songs, band members chipping in with wisecracks, and the trio stepping down into the audience singing 'Route 66', with Anita coaxing one brave soul to jive with her. It was a great night of entertainment and display of artistic talent. Everything about it was just so well done. The wonderfully talented and tightly arranged harmonies, the attention to detail in the costumes, the choreography, and the splendid jazz group backing the singers. Just fantastic!"

Committee Ramblings

With an enormous program of top interstate performers arriving and ticket sales doing very well the committee at the last meeting discussed ways to reverse the current trend of more expenses and fewer patrons.

In the past at the Bicentennial Hall we were able to afford airtfares, fees and venue hire for top Australian Jazz Bands and individual performers and an occasional international show which always sold out. Whilst the local bands are just as good, there is a very small pool and we are obliged through costs to overexpose these fine musicians. The cost of hiring the J theater was discussed also, and in total we pay over $12,000 a year for hall hire and ancillary costs. We will discuss this with the J staff however it may be necessary to study other options
